Lead: ♦ A

South lead the diamond ace, then the king, declarer, Peter Marstrander, played the six and then the ten. Now the king of heart was played from the table and North won with the ace. North played his single spade to the 10, J and Q and the 7 of heart was played to the 9 and 10. A club to the Q and king and the club J came back to the ace. A heart was played from dummy to finesse and the rest of the hearts ended south, he was squeezed in diamond and spade so the diamond 2! took the last trick.

Våre utmerkede dublører: Beate Nyhammer Hansen, Daniel Bjørge og Vegard Hermansen.

Våre turneringslederei mester, Hans Arne Forseth og Per Nordland

BEST BOARD AWARD

There were many good candidates for the hand of the tournament, but the winner had an edge over her competitors, the final comment by her left hand opponent: The ace of hearts going with me home to Mo i Rana!

The jury: Jon Sveindal and Kåre Beyer Kristiansen

Bidding not none - The contract was 3NT in south.

Lead: ♣ 3

Pernille played the contract 3NT in south and got a club lead who east won with the king and returned the color. Pernille now played her single heart, and when west played low the opponent have no more tricks. Just see what happened. Now declarer took the Ace and Queen of spades and got the bad news, but when she run all the good diamonds West didn't like it at all. The position was:

Lead: Diamond 5

It was very careful bidding of me in south, but when the opponents is Sælensminde and Furunes I choosed to pass the hand. The diamond 5 came out to the ace, a club to the king and a club to the queen and duck. So the classic play by Erik, the queen of spade, not easy for “Turbo” to cover with the king. On the 9 of spade in the next trick he should have seen what happened but still he played a low spade. I didn’t dear to play a low heart since we had 4 spade tricks, A and K in hearts and the club trick for one down and what looked like a great score!

Lead: ♣10

The lead was 10 of club, Helness took the ace and played ace and king of diamond. The queen of heart East won with the ace, a new club gave us 200.

So I hear from the other side of the table: Partner, this is the first penalty double in the whole tournament, what happened?

I had to see if it was possible to weak you up! Was the answer.

Then you are allowed to make a happy scream when you play against a world champion!

On behalf of Grand Tourney in Bergen we will thank you for letting us send our tournament on BBO.

We hope to see you all again next year in january on BBO.

We will especially thank Fred Gittelman and Roland Wald!

With best regards

We also want to say thank you to Jon Sveindal who joined us here to commentate the tournament.

Lead: ♠ 3

I started the bidding with 1 ♣, my partner answered 1d (4+ ♥) and south doubled to show diamond. I now jumped to 3 ♥ and it went pass, pass before south came back with 4 ♦. Now East bid 4 ♥ after 2 times pass before him, and North doubled when it was his turn, then all passed out.

The lead was the 3 of spade and I won with the king. A small heart to the king told us all about that color. North won with the ace and played the nine of diamond and South won with the J. South could not play a spade, I will let it go to the ten and if North steals it I can afford that. The club loser will disappear on the spade. So South played a club to the queen and king and North played a low trump back to the 6 in the table. A heart to the 9 and 10 and club to the ace told us about that color. Club to ruff and when the queen of heart is played South is squeezed in spade and diamond.
